

MARION PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE TO HARDING

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR LATE PRESIDENT HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

No Solemn Music of Bands and Military Pageant Marked the Services—Were Simple and in Keeping with Wishes of Widow—Thousands of Ohioans Throng Marion

(By the Associated Press)
MARION, Ohio, Aug. 10.—Harding, of Ohio, is home tonight; sleeping time away near the mother at whose knee his first childish dream of greatness was prattled. Before his tomb, as the chiming voices of the choir sang softly among the trees, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," another tender, brave woman stood with aching heart, her veiled face lifted to the sky. A moment later she stepped a meagre moment into the dim vault where the dead husband's journey of life had ended. Then she turned away brave to the last to face the lonely years ahead. She waited not to see the iron gates close softly upon her dead.

Harding is home forever from life's high places where the restless heady winds of ambition blow; home beneath Ohio soil, for above him the vaulted roof is mantled with grass grown sod, home among the friends and neighbors of his youth, the kindly people of a kindly town. Time is ended for him and the shouting and clamor that surrounded the great is done.

The long road to that silent vault around which there closed tonight a guard of the citizen soldiery of his own state, there was endless ceremony of the nation's and the peoples' making, to mark the way. But it ended simply, calmly, and as the dead would have had it end.

CRITICISM WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR HARDING'S DEATH

Memorial Speaker So States in Kansas Address

(By the Associated Press)
IOLA, Kans., Aug. 10.—Calling upon the people to pledge themselves against destructive criticism which destroys the life of the executive as well as wrecks the morale of the people, Frank R. Forest, lawyer and prominent Democrat, in a Harding memorial here today said that such criticism was in a large measure responsible for the death of Warren G. Harding and other presidents and urged that the public should endeavor to give constructive encouragement.

A telegram is to be sent to President Coolidge bringing the pledge of the heart of the Kansas oil and gas belt and an appeal goes out for a nation wide response to the plea of the Iola meeting. Closing his address, Mr. Forest said:

"Criticism killed Lincoln, criticism killed Garfield, criticism killed McKinley and criticism contributed in a major degree to the death of Warren G. Harding. There are times, my friends, when we are too hasty in our judgments, too early in our conclusions. There are times when the shaft of public comment goes straight to the heart of the national executive and either invigorates or destroys."

"I do not call for complete unity of political thought, but I do now and here call upon this people to join me in recording a solemn pledge that henceforth and forever we as American people refrain from such criticism of our national executive as shall tend to weaken or destroy him and that instead we shall endeavor at all times to give to the public constructive thought that shall build up, instead of bitter, negative that shall tear down."

CHRISTIAN SUBMITS HIS RESIGNATION TO THE NEW PRESIDENT

Informally Says He Does Not Want to Continue in Office

(By the Associated Press)
MARION, Ohio, Aug. 10.—George B. Christian, secretary to Warren G. Harding as United States senator and as president announced tonight that he had submitted his resignation as executive secretary to President Coolidge.

Mr. Christian made his announcement soon after he had returned from the final services for his dead chief.

"I entered public life with Warren G. Harding and I leave it now that he has been called away," the announcement said. "For nearly nine years I worked beside him and my present sorrow is somewhat assuaged by the feeling of satisfaction at having been permitted to serve a great president, a most humane and considerate chief and the finest friend I have ever been given a man to have."

Mr. Christian's resignation was accepted by President Coolidge with a tender of any services I may be able to render him and any assistance I can give his secretary. It is my expectation to enter private business just as soon as I may be able to complete my arrangements therefore.

Mr. Christian added informally that he had no desire to continue in public office and would not look with favor on any federal appointment. The former secretary left here tonight for Washington with Mrs. Harding to assist her in removing personal belongings from the white house and to clear up the desk of the late president. He may continue to live in Washington for a few months but expected to go into private business soon.

The relations between the late president and his secretary amounted to what is generally regarded as ideal. The president relied greatly on "George" as he ever called him and Mr. Christian was faithful and absolutely true to his chief. When Mr. Harding was selecting his staff of advisers and associates prior to taking up the presidency there were some Republican leaders who urged others for the secretaryship but Mr. Harding soon gave these leaders to understand that inasmuch as Mr. Christian had been loyal to him when political fortunes were not so favorable he would under no circumstances make a change on entering the white house.

HARDING'S CAMPING PARTNERS OFF FOR TWO WEEKS' TRIP

Ford, Edison and Firestone Start on Trip After Funeral

(By the Associated Press)
MARION, O., Aug. 10.—A wandering caravan composed of men high in the nation's ranks of scientists and manufacturers left Marion tonight for a destination unknown even to its members.

In the party were Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison and H. S. Firestone.

They are off for their annual frolic in quest of recreation. They came to Marion to bury one of their partners in frolics of former years, the late President Harding.

Before leaving Mr. Ford said he did not believe Mr. Harding's death would have any effect on business or policies of the government, as the administration at Washington is practically the same as when Mr. Harding was president.

Mr. Ford, who is acting as host this year, said the first stop will be at Milan in Northern Ohio, birthplace of Mr. Edison. From there the party will go to Mr. Ford's country home near Detroit, from where it will wander thru Northern Michigan and Wisconsin.

There is no definite itinerary, however, and according to Mr. Ford the party will "just wander aimlessly for the next two weeks." They will camp along the way, but where they will stop and how long they will remain before breaking camp is entirely up to Mr. Edison, who has been designated "commander-in-chief."

The party is traveling in its own automobiles, the camping equipment being carried in huge motor lorries. The equipment includes a complete camp kitchen, large army tents for each member of the party and all the conveniences known to present day camping.

SILENCE PREVAILED IN NATION'S CAPITAL

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Silence prevailed throughout Washington today for five minutes as the funeral service for Warren G. Harding was held in Marion. On the east steps of the capitol where Mr. Harding had taken the presidential oath, a bugler sounded "taps" and the call was picked up and echoed by trumpeters in other sections of the city.

Street cars stopped, telephone service was suspended, electric power was shut off—for five minutes practically all activity was at a halt and men, women and children on the streets stood with heads bowed. Coincidentally with the brief Marion ceremony memorial services were held here in various churches and by a number of organizations. During the day business houses and theaters were closed as were government offices. Golf links were deserted, the municipal bathing beach was closed and no baseball games were played.

THOUGHT TO BE BODY OF SPRINGFIELD MAN

(By the Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 10.—The body of an unidentified man found near Arzno yesterday is thought by friends to be that of Joseph Streiff, of Springfield, who disappeared from his home about six months ago. The man was found near a main highway yesterday by a Cass county farmer. From the appearance of the surrounding ground, it is suspected that the body had been carried some distance. The man's skull was fractured.

GEORGIA TO TAX OPERA COMPANIES

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 10.—New York with its gay night life and Metropolitan Opera Company and so described luxury-rolling, silk rattling, and diamond wearing, monkey petting persons of the southland, today became storm centers in the Georgia house of representatives and when the heated debate had come to an end and what was termed a heavy tax schedule had been voted upon all opera organizations appearing in the state.

EARLY RETIREMENT OF CUNO MINISTRY IS FORESHADOWED

United Socialists go to Standard of Communists

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 10.—The early retirement of Chancellor Cuno and his ministry seems foreshadowed in consequence in the decision of the United Socialists to support the "no-confidence" motion introduced by the communists, which will come up for a vote in the reichstag on Monday.

Altho the United Socialists originally concluded that they would abstain from voting when the issue came up, the internal situation is fast drifting to a point where the Socialists face the necessity of saving their political prestige with the workers in order to prevent the workers from deserting to the communists.

The Socialists tonight are conferring with Chancellor Cuno in an effort to induce him to resign. In the event he acquiesces Dr. Gustav Stresemann, leader of the German people's party, would be asked by President Ebert to reconstruct the government on the basis of a big coalition, which would include the United Socialists.

The panicky feeling which has marked Germany's internal situation the past few days and which is being converted into political capital by the communists, late tonight seized the reichstag, where symptoms of a Cuno crisis developed because of the decision of the Socialists to retire from their position of "benevolent neutrality" toward the present non-partisan, or business men's cabinet.

Despite the new tax and financial program promised by Chancellor Cuno, the United Socialist leaders on the party's moderate wing have been unable to stand off their radical comrades who are clamoring for the chancellor's retirement. The communists craftily turned the party disunion to their purpose by introducing the "no confidence" motion in the reichstag late this afternoon.

This was so worded that the Socialists either had to accept it or go before their following as having given the bourgeois government their approval.

The motion simply stated that the chancellor's policies do not represent the reichstag's views. The parliamentary storm came unexpectedly while the house was still voting the government's tax bills. The United Socialists now have alienated themselves to such an extent from the Cuno cabinet's program that the ministry's retirement appears inevitable.

PASSENGERS AND TRAIN CREW HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES

(By the Associated Press)
FORT MADISON, Iowa, Aug. 10.—Passengers and crew of the Missionary, crack Santa Fe train speeding from Los Angeles to Chicago, joined in a memorial service to the memory of President Harding when the train was brought to a stop near Modifi, Mo., at 2 o'clock today. As the great train came to a halt out in the open, passengers and crew gathered outside the observation car where memorial services were conducted by the Rev. Martin Luther Thomas, a Presbyterian minister of Deerfield, Ill.

Three passengers and a Pullman conductor formed a quartet and sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

The train crew joined with the passengers in singing "Rock of Ages" then with bowed heads listened to a prayer by the minister. The engineer then climbed into his cab, the passengers many with moist eyes resumed their places and the train, its tribute finished, sped on eastward.

NEW PRESIDENT IS RETURNING TO FACE PROBLEMS OF OFFICE

Shows Only Slight Fatigue After Long Hours Preparing for Nation's Tribute to Stricken Leader—No Administrative Acts Are Probable Before Next Monday

(By the Associated Press)
ABOARD THE PRESIDENTIAL TRAIN, Enroute to Washington, Aug. 10.—Leaving behind him in Marion, entombed with tender care, the body of his late captain, President Coolidge tonight was returning to the capital to face the problems of office.

With him returned admirals and generals, members of congress, representatives of various states who had come with him to participate in the burial ceremony of Warren Harding.

The journey, the second hasty trip since he was called to take upon himself the guidance of the nation, was no light trial for the new magistrate who has spared himself, neither strain nor late hours in personally directing a nation's tribute to a stricken leader. But except for a slight fatigue, he seemed none the worse for the journey. Mr. Coolidge, who left Washington last night, expects to reach the capital early tomorrow. With the week-end facing him it is probable that administrative acts will not be forthcoming before next Monday, altho facing him immediately is the appointment of a secretary and personal physician.

Questions which call for the temporary white house already have placed before Mr. Coolidge include the possible need for an extra session of congress the fact that his predecessor had planned to call another conference of governors to discuss prohibition enforcement and the coal situation.

Mr. Coolidge, accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft, General Pershing and other notables arrived in Marion about 10:30 p. m., after an uneventful journey.

Receives in Private Car
Just after leaving Akron, Mr. Coolidge received in his private car all the members of his traveling party. Then he changed his traveling suit for frock coat and high silk hat.

After reaching Marion, the new president wishing to leave to Marion as long as possible his own dead did not leave his car until it was time to drive to the home of Dr. George T. Harding, Sr., father of the late president and take his place at the head of the funeral procession.

It was a sad journey that Mr. Coolidge took thru that long line of citizens who knew Mr. Harding by his first name and used it even after he had been lifted to the presidency.

But it was not with Mr. Coolidge that the heart of the crowd rested—a divided heart.

Tenderly the townsfolk gazed on the gray horse bearing past them the body of their beloved neighbor. Their grief showed in their faces.

Sympathy for Widow
Just as tenderly to the face of the brave little widow in black who to the very end even when the gates of the tomb swung closed on her husband's body, kept her pledge that she would not break down.

The citizens of Marion had more than a hasty glance at the procession as it wound thru their streets, moving so slowly that a child could have kept pace.

It was a shirt sleeved crowd, a domestic crowd, a crowd who respected Warren Harding for the honors that had come to him, but remembered that he was still one of them after moving to the white house. Fathers lifted their youngsters to their shoulders that graven on their minds might be the glory of Warren Harding, that they in turn might tell their own children in the years to come.

IMMENSE CROWDS THROUG CITY FOR HARDING FUNERAL

For Sixteen Hours it Files by Bier of Late President

(By the Associated Press)
MARION, Ohio, Aug. 10.—How many of Ohio's and the nation's citizens joined with the 30,000 good Marion neighbors and friends of Warren G. Harding never will be known. They could only be roughly estimated.

They came and came and came from everywhere until they literally crowded every street, and byway which the late president knew and loved so well. Tonight they are going, each to his separate home sad of heart for him whom they loved. Mingled with all the sadness, however, is a measure of joy that it is all over for the frail woman shrouded in black who is speeding back to the nation's white house to turn it over to its new mistress.

Thousands were still strolling the streets tonight or were grouped about the little home on East Center street which has been the shrine of the nation's sorrow since early yesterday after the body of the dead president was brought to abide among loved ones at home. They seemed unwilling to forget.

But as soon as the funeral cortege that was formed in San Francisco seven days ago and traveled across continent and part way back again had started on its last lap to the cemetery, many who had been privileged to pass by the bier broke ranks and departed believing to the less fortunate a chance to at least get a glimpse of the departing coffin.

PRISONERS IN COUNTY JAIL HOLD SERVICES

Choir of Six Prisoners Sing Harding's Favorite Hymns

(By the Associated Press)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 10.—Prisoners in the Sacramento county jail today joined in paying homage to the memory of President Harding with memorial service arranged and conducted by themselves.
There were no flowers, and only the bare iron and masonry walls confronted the little group on the top floor of the jail as they entered their measure of devotion to the dead chief.
A choir of six prisoners sang the president's favorite hymns. Tears streamed freely from the eyes of those allowed to take part, many of them hardened criminals as the choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee" and others joined in the refrain with broken voices.
The cabinet family came to stand closer at the foot of the casket with their new chief standing sorrowfully among them. The admiral in gleaming white lined the way to the left, the generals to the right and beyond behind the cabinet stood the little party of intimates and friends who made the Alaska journey and death broke so suddenly. Then came Dr. Harding, with the snows of his eighty years showing on his bare head, and then the brave widow walking to her place at the right of the casket with Secretary Christian and the members of the grief bowed family.

EARLY RETIREMENT OF CUNO MINISTRY IS FORESHADOWED

United Socialists go to Standard of Communists

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 10.—The early retirement of Chancellor Cuno and his ministry seems foreshadowed in consequence in the decision of the United Socialists to support the "no-confidence" motion introduced by the communists, which will come up for a vote in the reichstag on Monday.
Although the United Socialists originally concluded that they would abstain from voting when the issue came up, the internal situation is fast drifting to a point where the Socialists face the necessity of saving their political prestige with the workers in order to prevent the workers from deserting to the communists.

The motion simply stated that the chancellor's policies do not represent the reichstag's views. The parliamentary storm came unexpectedly while the house was still voting the government's tax bills. The United Socialists now have alienated themselves to such an extent from the Cuno cabinet's program that the ministry's retirement appears inevitable.

Minister Conducts Services, Crew and Passengers Sing

(By the Associated Press)
FORT MADISON, Iowa, Aug. 10.—Passengers and crew of the Missionary, crack Santa Fe train speeding from Los Angeles to Chicago, joined in a memorial service to the memory of President Harding when the train was brought to a stop near Medill, Mo., at 2 o'clock today. As the great train came to a halt out in the open, passengers and crew gathered outside the observation car where memorial services were conducted by the Rev. Martin Luther Thomas, a Presbyterian minister of Deerfield, Ill.
Three passengers and a Pullman conductor formed a quartet and sang "Nearer My God to Thee."
The train crew joined with the passengers in singing "Rock of Ages" then with bowed heads listened to a prayer by the minister. The engineer then climbed into his cab, the passengers many with moist eyes resumed their places and the train, its tribute finished, sped on eastward.

NEW PRESIDENT IS RETURNING TO FACE PROBLEMS OF OFFICE

Shows Only Slight Fatigue After Long Hours Preparing for Nation's Tribute to Stricken Leader—No Administrative Acts Are Probable Before Next Monday

(By the Associated Press)
ABOARD THE PRESIDENTIAL TRAIN, Enroute to Washington, Aug. 10.—Leaving behind him in Marion, entombed with tender care, the body of his late captain, President Coolidge tonight was returning to the capital to face the problems of office.
With him returned admirals and generals, members of congress, representatives of various states who had come with him to participate in the burial ceremony of Warren Harding.
The journey, the second hasty trip since he was called to take upon himself the guidance of the nation, was no light trial for the new magistrate who has spared himself neither strain nor late hours in personally directing a nation's tribute to a stricken leader. But except for a slight fatigue, he seemed none the worse for the journey. Mr. Coolidge, who left Washington last night, expects to reach the capital early tomorrow. With the week-end facing him it is probable that administrative acts will not be forthcoming before next Monday, although facing him immediately is the appointment of a secretary and personal physician.
Questions which call for the temporary white house already have placed before Mr. Coolidge include the possibly need for an extra session of congress the fact that his predecessor had planned to call another conference of governors to discuss prohibition enforcement and the coal situation.
Mr. Coolidge, accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft, General Pershing and other notables arrived in Marion about 10:30 p. m., after an uneventful journey.
Receives in Private Car
Just after leaving Akron, Mr. Coolidge received in his private car all the members of his traveling party. Then he changed his traveling suit for frock coat and high silk hat.
After reaching Marion, the new president wishing to leave to Marion as long as possible his own dead did not leave his car until it was time to drive to the home of Dr. George T. Harding, Sr., father of the late president and take his place at the head of the funeral procession.
It was a sad journey that Mr. Coolidge took thru that long line of citizens who knew Mr. Harding by his first name and used it even after he had been lifted to the presidency.
But it was not with Mr. Coolidge that the heart of the crowd rested—a divided heart.
Tenderly the towns folk gazed on the gray hearse bearing past them the body of their beloved neighbor. Their grief showed in their faces.
Sympathy for Widow
Just as tenderly these lifted their eyes diffidently to the face of the brave little widow in black who to the very end even when the gates of the tomb swung closed on her husband's body, kept her pledge that she would not break down.
The citizens of Marion had more than a hasty glance at the procession as it wound thru their streets, moving so slowly that a child could have kept pace.
It was a shirt sleeved crowd, a Democratic crowd, a crowd who respected Warren Harding for the honors that had come to him, but remembered that he was still one of them after moving to the white house. Fathers lifted their youngsters to their shoulders that graven on their minds might be the glory of Warren Harding, that they in turn might tell their own children in the years to come.

IMMENSE CROWDS THROUG CITY FOR HARDING FUNERAL

For Sixteen Hours it Files by Bier of Late President

(By the Associated Press)
MARION, Ohio, Aug. 10.—How many of Ohio's and the nation's citizens joined with the 30,000 good Marion neighbors and friends of Warren G. Harding never will be known. They could only be roughly estimated.
They came and came and came from everywhere until they literally crowded every street and byway which the late president knew and loved so well. Tonight they are going, each to his separate home sad of heart for him whom they loved. Mingled with all the sadness, however, is a measure of joy that it is all over for the frail woman shrouded in black who is speeding back to the nation's white house to turn it over to its new mistress.
Thousands were still strolling the streets tonight or were grouped about the little home on East Center street which has been the shrine of the nation's sorrow since early yesterday after the body of the dead president was brought to abide among loved ones at home. They seemed unwilling to forget.
But as soon as the funeral cortege that was formed in San Francisco seven days ago and traveled across continent and part way back again had started on its last lap to the cemetery, many who had been privileged to pass by the bier broke ranks and departed leaving to the less fortunate a chance to at least get a glimpse of the departing coffin.

GUNMEN MURDER AT MEMORIAL SERVICE

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—While 200 worshippers were praying in the Rutgers street synagogue for the repose of the soul of the late President Harding, two gunmen drove up in a taxi and shot dead Louis Schwartzman, who was sitting on the steps.
Schwartzman's sweetheart, Miss Edna Churgin, who was seated beside him jumped up and tried to detain the gunmen, but they pushed her aside and leveling their revolvers at members of the congregation who rushed from the synagogue, held them at bay while they made their escape.
Police said they believed the crime had been committed by a former admirer of Miss Churgin.

Throughout the entire country yesterday afternoon people in all walks of life gathered in memorial services for the late president, Warren G. Harding. All of them were marked by the simplicity so characteristic of the man himself.

Few men since the martyred Lincoln have held so close a place in the hearts of all the people as did Mr. Harding. As death levels all rank, so it yesterday leveled all political lines. Republicans and Democrats alike joined in words of eulogy to his memory. This likewise was true of all religious creeds for all gathered in their church edifices and in public places to pay this man honor.

Out in Sacramento California the prisoners in the county jail with nothing but bare walls of masonry and iron bars gathered and held memorial services. Six prisoners sang the favorite hymns of Mr. Harding and other prisoners joined in. It was probably the first time in many years that some of them moved their lips in sacred music. Many were moved to tears as the words of the old familiar hymns sounded thru the jail.

It was truly a typical American tribute to a typical American.

THE COMING CHAUTAUQUA

In some communities it is an acknowledged fact that the chautauqua interest lessens from year to year. The opposite is true locally and the 1923 chautauqua promises to be the best in the history of the organization. The tent colony will be fully as large as heretofore and a study of the program gives ample proof that the directors have shown a fine degree of judgment in their selections and have beside been liberal in the use of the money at their disposal.

Next Friday, August 17, is the opening day with a lecture by Senator Leurol of Wisconsin in the afternoon and a dramatic presentation of "Turn to the Right" as the night attraction. There are a number of Jacksonville citizens who have been in Chicago and have gone to see "Turn to the Right" as many as four or five times, so great has been its hold upon them.

The community band will give a concert program on this first day just as is true on other days. One might go on at length calling attention to the daily features of this chautauqua event. As has been true in other years, the directors are giving their time and thought without stint and their only reward will be interest and appreciation on the part of the public.

A statement from Frank R. Forest made at Iola, Kansas, and quoted elsewhere in this issue, is worthy of careful consideration. Mr. Forest maintains that destructive criticism has been done distinctly harmful to more than one president of the U. S. He argues that hereafter the public refrain from criticizing the national executive, whoever he may be, in a way that destroys.

Certain it is, as he says, "The American people are too hasty in their judgment, too early in their conclusions. History shows how very quickly public sentiment changes and how speedily popularity is lost. Too often people turn from friendship to criticism of public men, merely because these men do not look at problems just as their critics do."

Then there is that other failing of blaming public officials for events over which they have no control—the results of economic conditions. As already suggested, Mr. Forest's ideas are quite well worth consideration.

COAL SUPPLY ADEQUATE

There is little real reason for the onsets of anthracite coal to get panicky over the fuel prospect for next winter. There is, probably more anthracite being mined this year than for several years past, and the reason there is a shortage in some sections at the present time is that shipments are being diverted to the Northwest and New England where the earlier and more severe winter interferes with transportation.

Householders are also making huge purchases, more than ever before at this time of year, and the failure of some people to have their orders filled promptly is due to that unusual summer demand. It is estimated that 65 percent of the regular consumption are already in the bins of the consumers.

Anthracite producers and miners have been in session at Atlantic City in an effort to adjust their differences before the present winter agreements expire on August 31. Several compromises have been made, and there is indication that a strike may be avoided, with no interruption to production. John Hays Hammond, Chairman of the Coal Commission and former Vice-President Marshall, one of its members, are both convinced that there will be no strike. Both parties to the discussions at Atlantic City are aware that the President is prepared to move swiftly and surely in the event of a threatened shortage in the fuel supply, and that knowledge will have its effect in bringing an agreement.

If a strike comes, and it is found that an anthracite shortage is threatened, the administration through the Bureau of Mines, has a plan already worked out for taking charge of the mines and producing and selling the coal under Federal protection. A special governmental agency would be created, similar to that set up last summer before Congress created the Coal Commission. If persuasion failed to bring an agreement, more drastic measures would be restored to. Neither the owners nor the miners are desirous of government operation of the mines. Such an arrangement might be made permanent and owners would lose some of their profits, while the miners would lose many of the privileges that are now given them.

LOCAL COMMANDERY IN MEMORIAL FRIDAY

Hospitaller Commandery, Knights Templar, held service in honor of their brother, Knight, Warren G. Harding—Rev. Sponts was speaker.

Memorial services for Sir Knight Warren G. Harding were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Hospitaller Commandery No. 21, Knights Templar, in the Masonic Temple. There was a good attendance of members and friends of the order and the services were impressively in accord with the spirit of the day. They were conducted by Rev. W. E. Sponts, who read the 23rd Psalm and led the opening prayer. Then followed a vocal solo by Norman Campbell, "Nearer My God To Thee," accompanied by Mrs. Edgar Martin as pianist.

Rev. Sponts then delivered a brief address in memory of Mr. Harding, emphasizing mainly his last words to his brethren of the Knights Templar Commanderies. He read extracts from the address sent by Harding to the Commandery at Hollywood when the banner, which began his journey at his home lodge in Marion, O., was sent to lodges in Canada and northwestern United States, was presented to the Hollywood lodge.

Rev. Sponts mentioned the one outstanding characteristic which he believed, would cause the people to hold Harding in blessed memory. This was his intense love for folks. Everywhere he showed friendliness and kindness to all he met. His faith in God, his love of the people and his fidelity to the high principles in administering his office mark him as one whose name shall go down in history, along with that of Lincoln.

Harding's stand on the enforcement of the 18th amendment taken in his speeches at Seattle and Denver, gave new heart to the law enforcement officials throughout the nation and showed his uncompromising attitude toward the right in an hour when politicians in both great parties were flirting with the lawless elements.

The services closed with the singing of "America" by the audience.

G. A. R. ADOPTED RESOLUTION

At a regular meeting of Matt Starr Post No. 378, G. A. R., held Friday afternoon, the following resolution with reference to the death of President W. G. Harding was adopted:

The members of Matt Starr Post 378, Grand Army of the Republic, Jacksonville, Ill., regard with extreme sorrow the untimely death of the nation's chief executive and commander in chief of the army and navy President Warren G. Harding.

In his death the nation has suffered the loss of a wise and conscientious official, a man of unswerving integrity and devotion to duty as he understood it. His eager desire to acquaint himself better with the duties of his office and the intricate problems which confronted him no doubt hastened the death so deeply deplored by a sorrowing nation. He was kind and generous to all; ready to receive and profit by advice from any source and when he saw what he felt was the proper course to pursue he followed without fear or favor.

To the aged father, bereaved widow and the mourning brother we tender our sincere sympathy in their hour of sore trial and commend them to Him whom the departed one so faithfully served.

To Hon. Calvin P. Coolidge, successor to President Harding, we offer our uncompromising loyalty and devotion and trust his administration may be a fine success in every way.

It is ordered that a copy of this minute be spread on the records of the Post, and a copy sent to the family of the deceased President, President Coolidge and the city press for publication.

WRITES OF TRAVELS IN NEW ENGLAND

W. Woodward Writes Interesting Letter for Benefit of Journal Readers.

The following letter has been written to the Journal by W. Woodward, who is a well known resident of Morgan county. Mr. Woodward tells some interesting facts about his recent trip to the New England states.

South Royalton, Vt., August 7, 1923.

Editor Journal:—Thinking that perhaps a few lines giving an account of our trip and sightseeing trip in the New England states might be of interest to some of our readers, I am writing this letter.

Our trip to Chicago was made by auto (Ford) via Bushnell, where we stayed over Sunday with W. G. Fry and family. From there via Galshburg, Kowace, Ottumwa, Joliet. We left Chicago June 25 via Grand Trunk, arriving here June 27 at 2 p. m. We were met at the depot by my brother and driven to his home, where we have made our headquarters since coming here. It has been very dry here this summer, but crops are very good, considering the dry weather.

The weather has been quite cool and we have been sleeping under heavy blankets every night, although several days it has been quite warm in the middle of the day. Farmers were just beginning to cut hay when we arrived and are still haying, although some of them are done.

There is no wheat raised here and very few oats and nearly all that is raised are cut for hay. Corn and potatoes are the main crops and very few farmers raise over five acres of corn.

Dairying and lumbering seem to be the principal occupations. Many of the mountain farms have been abandoned and have grown up to heavy timber, pine, spruce, white birch and hemlock. The scenery is beautiful. A party of us consisting of three automobiles left South Royalton one morning driving up thru Tunbridge and Chelsea to the top of the mountain at Washington Heights, thence down thru Washington to Barre, where we ate dinner. This is the place where the well known Barre granite comes from.

We did not visit the quarry but expect to go back for that purpose. We then drove to Williams town, down thru the Williams town gulf and visited the Sulphur Spring and the Cold Spring. While only a few feet apart, one is quite cold and pure, the other warm and has a sulphur taste. We returned home via Brookfield, East Randolph, East Bethel and Royalton.

We have made several other minor trips to Randolph, Bristol and Rochester. Last week we made a trip over into New Hampshire, up thru the White Mountains, which I will write up for next week's issue if you find this letter worth printing.

Very truly yours,

W. Woodward,

Chapin, Illinois

LOCAL COMMANDERY IN MEMORIAL FRIDAY

Hospitaler Commandery, Knights Templar, held Service in Honor of Their Brother Knight, Warren G. Harding—Rev. Spooner Was Speaker

Memorial services for Sir Knight Warren G. Harding were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Hospitaler Commandery No. 31, Knights Templar, in the Masonic Temple. There was a good attendance of members and friends of the order and the services were impressively in accord with the spirit of the day. They were conducted by Rev. W. B. Spooner, who read the 23rd Psalm and led the opening prayer. Then followed a vocal solo by Norman Campbell, "Nearer My God to Thee," accompanied by Mrs. Edgar Martin as pianist. Rev. Spooner then delivered a brief address in memory of Mr. Harding, emphasizing mainly his last words to his brethren of the Knights Templar Commandery. He read extracts from the address sent by Harding to the Commandery at Hollywood when the banner, which began its journey at his home lodge in Marion, O., was sent to lodges in Canada and northwestern United States, was presented to the Hollywood lodge.

Rev. Spooner mentioned the one outstanding characteristic which he believed, caused the people to hold Harding in blessed memory. This was his intense love for folks. Everywhere he showed friendliness and kindness to all he met. His faith in God, his love of the people and his fidelity to the highest principles in administering his office mark him as one whose name shall go down in history, along with that of Lincoln.

Harding's stand on the enforcement of the 18th amendment taken in his speeches at Seattle and Denver, gave new heart to the law enforcement officials throughout the nation and showed his uncompromising attitude toward the right in an hour when politicians in both great parties were flirting with the lawless elements.

The services closed with the singing of "America" by the audience.

G. A. R. ADOPTED RESOLUTION

At a regular meeting of Matt Starr Post No. 378, G. A. R. held Friday afternoon, the following resolution with reference to the death of President W. G. Harding was adopted:

The members of Matt Starr Post 378, Grand Army of the Republic, Jacksonville, Ill., regard with extreme sorrow the untimely death of the nation's chief executive and commander in chief of the army and navy President Warren G. Harding. In his death the nation has suffered the loss of a wise and conscientious official, a man of unswerving integrity and devotion to duty as he understood it. His eager desire to acquaint himself better with the duties of his office and the intricate problems which confronted him no doubt hastened the death so deeply deplored by a sorrowing nation. He was kind and generous to all; ready to receive and profit by advice from any source and when he saw what he felt was the proper course to pursue he followed without fear or favor.

To the aged father, bereaved widow and the mourning brother we tender our sincere sympathy in their hour of sorrow and commend them to Him whom the departed one so faithfully served.

To Hon. Calvin P. Coolidge, successor to President Harding, we offer our uncompromising loyalty and devotion and trust his administration may be a fine success in every way.

It is ordered that a copy of this minute be spread on the records of the Post, and a copy each sent the family of the deceased President, President Coolidge and the city press for publication.

John Minter, Commander

L. Goheen, Adjutant.

WRITES OF TRAVELS IN NEW ENGLAND

W. Woodward Writes Interesting Letter for Benefit of Journal Readers.

The following letter has been written to the Journal by W. Woodward, who is a well known resident of Morgan county. Mr. Woodward tells some interesting facts about his recent trip to the New England states.

South Royalton, Vt., August 7, 1923.

Editor Journal:—Thinking that perhaps a few lines giving an account of our travels and sightseeing trip in the New England states might be of interest to some of our readers, I am writing this letter. Our trip to Chicago was made by auto (Ford) via Bushnell, where we stayed over Sunday with W. G. Fry and family. From there via Galesburg, Keosauqua, Iowa, Joliet. We left Chicago June 25 via Grand Trunk, arriving here June 27 at 2 p. m. We were met at the depot by my brother and driven to his home, where we have made our headquarters since coming here. It has been very dry here this summer, but crops are very good, considering the dry weather.

The weather has been quite cool and we have been sleeping under heavy blankets every night, although several days it has been quite warm in the middle of the day. Farmers were just beginning to cut hay when we arrived and are still haying, although some of them are done.

There is no wheat raised here and very few oats and nearly all that is raised are cut for hay. Corn and potatoes are the main crops and very few farmers raise over five acres of corn.

Dairying and lumbering seem to be the principal occupations. Many of the mountain farms have been abandoned and have grown up to heavy timber, pine, spruce, white birch and hemlock. The scenery is beautiful. A party of us consisting of three automobiles left South Royalton one morning driving up thru Tunbridge and Chelsea to the top of the mountain at Washington Heights, thence down thru Washington to Barre, where we ate dinner. This is the place where the well known Barre granite comes from.

We did not visit the quarry but expect to go back for that purpose. We then drove to Williams-town, down thru the Williams-town gulf and visited the Sulphur Springs and the Cold Spring. While only a few feet apart, one is quite cold and pure, the other warm and has a sulphur taste. We returned home via Brockfield, East Randolph, East Bethel and Royalton.

We have made several other minor trips to Randolph, Bristol and Rochester. Last week we made a trip over into New Hampshire, up thru the White Mountains, which I will write up for next week's issue if you find this letter worth printing.

Very truly yours,
W. Woodward,
Chapin, Illinois

IMMENSE CROWDS THROW CITY FOR HARDING FUNERAL

How many had the rare privilege of seeing the face of the president while the body lay in state at the home of his father, Dr. George T. Harding, Sr., will never be ascertained. For sixteen hours they filed past the coffin with uncovered heads at the rate of about forty per minute.
Many Disappointed
When at last it became necessary at 1 o'clock today to close the doors to make ready for the journey to the cemetery there still were thousands waiting and disappointed. The solid mass of humanity that extended for eight blocks on the north side of Center street and had been constantly moving eastward toward the Harding home since 8 o'clock in the morning was forced to turn away in sadness. Earlier in the day the line had extended more than fifteen blocks down thru the heart of the city.
One wish of Mrs. Harding could not be fulfilled. She had expressed a desire that every person who so desired should be permitted to pass by the bier and pay their tribute of sorrow. She issued instructions last night that the house be kept open until morning if necessary to accommodate all who might come. They came until 1 o'clock in the morning. There were thousands too, who early gave up hope of being able to see the dead president because of the volumes which already were in line with little or no chance of reaching their goal.
But not to depart from Marion without having done their best to bestow a tribute of love they took to the opposite side of the street and joined in the solemn convulsion which journeyed past the Harding home, paused there a few moments with bowed heads and moved on for others to take their place.
Thronged Lined Route
But the tree-lined street leading to the Harding home was not the only place where crowds assembled. The entire route of the funeral cortege from the home to the cemetery was lined with other thousands, many of whom had been waiting there since midnight to catch the first glimpse of the sombre gray hearse as it bore Warren G.

MOONSHINERS WIPE

OF PROHIBITION PARTY

Party of Four Surrounded in Mountains and Shot Down

(By the Associated Press)

LENNUT, Ky., Aug. 10.—Wounded in the shoulder and left leg and crawling and stumbling along, Alex Gayheart of Perry county, a prohibition enforcement officer in R. L. Stewart's force, made his way into the railroad station at Lennut at break of day this morning, reporting that he was the only man left of a party of four prohibition men headed by Stewart who entered the mountains late Thursday afternoon to capture a band of moonshiners said to be near Cockerill's Ford, on Lost Creek.

The other three men in the prohibition party were R. L. Stewart, J. D. Carpenter of Jackson and C. D. Morrison.

Gayheart says the men were trapped in a small valley by the moonshiners and surrounded in this, the most remote and inaccessible section of the mountains of Breathitt county, widely known as a haven of moonshiners and fugitives.

OFFERS GRANITE FOR MAUSOLEUM

MARION, O., Aug. 10.—(By The Associated Press)—Granite to erect a suitable mausoleum for the body of the late President Harding was offered tonight free to the city of Marion by Guy M. Walker of New York City. The only cost to the city will be that of getting the granite out.

Mr. Walker made his offer in a telegram to E. B. Duffee, owner of Indian Mound, lying just east of the Marion cemetery where Mr. Harding's body is entombed and which has been suggested as a suitable site for the erection of a proper memorial for the late chief executive.

The granite used in the erection of the McKinley Memorial at Canton, Ohio, and the Perry Memorial at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, was obtained from the same quarry, Mr. Walker said.

The offer will be discussed by the Marion civic association but definite action on the proposal was not expected for several days, it was said tonight.

Mrs. Harding Goes Back to Washington

(By the Associated Press)

MARION, O., Aug. 10.—Another special train left Marion tonight for Washington. It was the same except for one coach that left San Francisco exactly one week ago today; the same that slowly crossed the continent to the national capitol and after a stop there of less than twenty-four hours ran to its destination here. The entire nation knows it by name as "the Harding Funeral Train." The missing car has been taken away. The body it brought home has been laid to rest. The car departed from Marion this evening never again to be used intact.

Still there rode in another last car tonight a grief worn woman. She, too, was the same who crossed the continent to the capitol and on to Marion bearing herself bravely thru the ordeal, assuring anxious friends that she was "all right and there was no cause for them to worry." This was the first time in the memory of Marion's citizenship that Florence Harding had gone away without "Warren."

Mrs. Harding will return soon to her home, temporarily to reside with friends and ultimately to return to her own home, now leased to friends.

Mrs. Harding was accompanied by a number of those who had made the tour to Alaska as the guests of the president and by a score of newspapermen who had come to Marion at her request—to be with her to the last, as they had been with her husband on his illstarred journey. Others also were on the train. They included members of the late President's cabinet and representatives of official Washington who had traveled here as "individuals to attend the funeral today."

George Christian, Jr., secretary to the late president went with Mrs. Harding to aid in her new tasks and to remove his effects from the White House executive offices where he had served until Mr. Harding's death as secretary to the president.

HILLSBORO CITIZENS WANT PLANT OPENED

(By the Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 10. Citizens of Hillsboro in a conference tonight called by the Commercial Club to discuss the strike of the American Zinc company employees passed resolutions urging the re-opening of the plant and the calling out of state troops to protect workmen, it needed.

The meeting tonight followed a day of clashes yesterday between strikers and deputy sheriffs on guard about the plant. After the meeting tonight, however, additional deputies were sworn in and placed on duty.

The strike began Tuesday morning when 300 employees demanded the recognition of their recently organized union.

Kenneth Rossman, manager of the plant, refused. One man was wounded and two deputy sheriffs were beaten in ensuing clashes between strikers and guards.

Rossman has closed the plant rather than have further bloodshed, he declared.

Hillsboro business depend to a large extent on the zinc plant for their trade and with 600 men out of work a big loss would result.

CLAIM BIG LOSS FOR CANADIANS

(By the Associated Press)

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 10.—An annual loss of $21,000,000 is being sustained by the people of Canada thru the diversion of 300,000 horsepower from the great lakes system by the Chicago sanitary officials, Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro commission declared tonight. The Chicago sanitary district takes from 8,000 to 10,000 cubic feet of water per second for treating its sewage so as to make it inoffensive and for supplying electric light and power, Sir Adam said. This in contravention of the governing authorities, he added.

He said officials of the Chicago sanitary district in a recent tour of the Canadian lake cities argued that the diversion of the water did not affect the Canadian interests and that they were prepared to install regulatory water works in the St. Lawrence river at Gallops Rapids.

Sir Adam stated that the amount of water diverted at times exceeded the quantity which passes over the American falls at Niagara.

HARDING BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press.)

For six months the vault in which Warren G. Harding will be buried by a detail of thirty United States Army "regulars" from Fort Hayes, Columbus. The "regulars" will take up the death watch next Monday. Until then the tomb will be guarded by Ohio National guard troops.

A mighty hush fell over the throngs that packed the streets as the funeral procession slowly wended its way from the Harding home to the cemetery. The only noise was the quiet chug of the automobile engines in the procession.

The funeral procession passed by the office of the Marion Star, published for years by Mr. Harding. Not an employee of the Star was in the building, the front windows of which had been darkened. The employees marched as a body in the procession, the only gathering given this permission.

Scores of visitors waiting in the long lines to pass the bier of Mr. Harding at the house, and other scores, most of them women waiting in the hot sun at the cemetery for the funeral procession to arrive faint and had to be taken to the hospital corps of the Ohio National Guard and by nearby physicians.

A large number of parents took their children past the dead president's bier and to the cemetery to attend the final services. Some women with small babies in their arms were forced to stand in line in the hot sun for more than two hours before they could gain access to the Harding home.

Estimates by secret service men were that between 50,000 and 75,000 persons passed in the line yesterday and today for a last glance at the face all knew so well.

Mrs. Harding rode to the cemetery in the fifth automobile behind the hearse. In the car with her were George Christian, her husband's private secretary and for years their next door neighbor in Marion and Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer who was President Harding's personal physician and intimate friend. Dr. Harding, the father, rode in another car.

So great was the crowd at the cemetery, that only a few could get close enough to the tomb to hear the words and music of the funeral service. Relatives and intimate friends gathered in an enclosure directly in front of the vault where the services were conducted.

As the body of the late president was placed in the vault an army bugler sounded "taps." For a moment there was silence and then the crowd began its sorrowful journey back to the center of the city.

Altho the food supply ran short in Marion today, the restaurants did not boost their prices. The regular prices prevailed as long as the food lasted. Hundreds of people who could not crowd into the restaurants at noon had to go without lunch. Similar conditions prevailed at supper.

A large crowd gathered at the station to see President Coolidge and his party off. President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge were the first to board the special. They were followed by Chief Justice Taft and many other notable Washington officials.

When General Pershing entered his car a mild cheer went up from those standing behind the roped enclosure. General Pershing did not acknowledge it. He later descended from his car and walked up and down the platform until the train started.

way of the vault, the churchmen took their places and from the shrubbery that screened them the choir sang "Lead Kindly Light."

The last service for Warren Harding had begun. Prayers followed, spoken by an old friend of the dead president. The scriptural passages that hearten men in sorrow were read; "Thee" and as the softly blending hymn of this simple, reverent service was "Nearer My God to Thee" and the choir sang. The last voices came to the last chords, Mrs. Harding slowly raised her veiled face and stood as tho in prayer to the Father who had taken her husband who in a moment would be shut away from her forever might know that peace beyond understanding which God's mercy holds out to humanity at the last.

The voices died away and with lifted hand Bishop Anderson of the Methodist Episcopal church pronounced the benediction: "Now unto Him that is able to keep us from falling, and to present us faultless before the presence of His glory, with exceeding joy to the only wise God our saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power both now and forevermore. Amen."

The funeral party and the hundreds who ringed them about stood motionless and silent a moment. Then the soldiers and sailors and marines who have kept the honor watch all the way from San Francisco and who alone have carried his casket stepped forward. Facing the tomb they lifted it slowly and slowly bore it in thru the shadowy doorway. And at that moment the nation stood silent in sorrow.

Back to the dim depth of the crypt of stone and earth the bearers went with their burden then turned to file out again and stand stiffly at attention in double lines forming a corridor in honor. Mrs. Harding raised her veil slightly and swept the moisture from her brow and lips. It was still and hot where the light breeze was shut off by the crowding, sorrowful people about her, but it did not seem that even now it was tears she wiped away.

Widow's Final Farewell
As the bearers came out she leaned to whisper to Secretary Christian. Then she stepped forward holding his arm to pass just within the ivy grown doorway beyond which lay the flag draped casket, hardly visible in the dim vault. She halted but a moment in this farewell, then turned to walk slowly down the roadway to the waiting motor car that rolled her swiftly away.

After she had gone President Coolidge with Mrs. Coolidge stepped to her place within the doorway, they, too, standing but a moment. As they turned to pass out the great iron barrier was swung softly shut and Warren Harding was at home forever in the town he loved.

Down beyond where a green lawn stretched under the trees the khaki tents of the guardsmen gleamed. As the sorrowing company before the vault moved away to the waiting cars, the guardsmen again took their places before the vault flaming with the beauty of the flowers that banked it about. And the hundreds who had stood to watch the ceremony that committed a simple American to the keeping of God drifted slowly away to leave him alone when dark fell for the sleep that will never end.

GERMAN SITUATION BECOMING SERIOUS

(By the Associated Press)

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—The strike movement which is bringing about a tremendous discrepancy between increasing food prices and the wages of workmen threatens to become exceedingly serious. However, the strike at the state printing works ended by agreement today and the presses are again turning out billions of paper marks.

This strike which tied up the relief work, was in violation of the decision of the ministry of labor which awarded a wage of approximately 6,500,000 paper marks weekly to men who demand nearly all the Hamburg ship yards are closed because the managers have been unable to accede to the workers demands for immediate increases in wages.

Among the workers generally there is a disposition to take recourse to strike unless wages are substantially increased. Even in the big factories where strikes have not occurred there is a disposition to adopt the tactics of cannanny or passive resistance. The average wage of the workers is between ten and fifteen gold marks monthly, but butter, for example costs one million paper marks per pound.

FOREST FIRE BREAKS OUT ANEW FRIDAY

(By the Associated Press)

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Aug. 10.—The forest fire in the Santa Barbara forest which died down last night and was thought to be nearly under control, revived with a rush today when a brisk wind sprang up. The flames are sweeping rapidly westward over a ten mile front, destroying much timber.

Mount McKinley and Santa Cruz Mountain have been converted into blackened peaks. The flames have swept down Grape Creek to the Santa Cruz Creek Fork and a widened area of the Matanza forest reserve has been burned over.

A BOARD PRESIDENTIAL TRAIN AT AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 10.—An expression of regret was forthcoming from the ear of President Coolidge, speeding back tonight to Washington, when newspapermen sent in word that George B. Those close to Mr. Coolidge said that he had not yet received the resignation, and that therefore comment was withheld. Official Washington has been speculating on the possible choice of a successor to Mr. Christian.

CHICAGO CITIZENS JOIN IN SERVICES FOR FORMER CHIEF

Business Ceased and Factories Were Stilled in Afternoon

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—As quiet simple and unostentatious as the man who was honored, was Chicago's tribute to the memory of Warren G. Harding today. Business ceased, factories were stilled, traffic stopped and people left their accustomed tasks to assemble throughout the city to mourn a fellow-American.

Services in the many churches and public services at the municipal pier, the Union League Club, in Grant Park and elsewhere, were marked by the utmost simplicity. The songs loved by him and his widow and for America were sung and the people departed solemnly and sadly.

The quiet in the loop, Chicago's business and financial district, was more than the Sunday and holiday stillness. Today the few people in the great business center found great office buildings closed and draped in mourning, flags drooping at half mast, theaters, drug stores and other business places usually open 365 days a year with locked doors and black bordered notices in the windows.

Everywhere there was the evidence of sadness. Services in the churches were attended by large congregations but the public ceremonies drew even greater crowds. At Ravenna Park, where sacred music featured the exercises, former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis declared that from the life of President Harding the world has learned how a people may be ruled with gentleness and a nation swayed by love.

Warren G. Harding was the type of conservative-progressive who will always bring to this Republic the greatest degree of safety, prosperity and happiness. Penn W. Hooper, chairman of the United States Railroad Labor Board declared in an eulogy at a church service. Probably one of the most unique services was held in the lobby of a downtown hotel where a dignified silence replaced the usual bustle and active speakers reviewed the life of Harding and the crowds joined in his songs.

At one police station all the prisoners were ordered to face the east at 2 o'clock and stand for two minutes.

SIX ARE DEAD FROM ACCIDENT

(By the Associated Press)
NYAC, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Six women and girls have died so far from burns received last night when a bus carrying sixty employees of the Christian Herald skidded into a concrete mixer in such a way that it snapped off a boiler neck and released a stream of scalding steam, which poured over the women. The last victim to succumb was Miss Lois Artz, 30, of Long Island City, N. Y., who died in the hospital here tonight.

Three more of the women were said tonight to be in a serious condition and many others were suffering from painful burns. The sixty women had been on an outing and were returning to New York when the accident occurred. The youngest of the party, Miss Jean Iwata, 18, was the first to die from her injuries shortly after being taken to the hospital yesterday. Miss Lillian Johnson, 28, who like Miss Iwata was in the charity department of the Christian Herald was the next to go. Others who lost their lives in the scalding steam were: Miss Loretta Younger, 19; Mrs. Jesse Townsend, 41, and Mrs. A. V. Beckman, 64.

Hope was expressed by doctors for three others, but they said it was only hope.

EDITOR ISSUES STATEMENT ON CONTROVERSY

Was Warned Against Publication of News by Judge

(By the Associated Press)
SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 10.—Walter Hard, managing editor of The Evening Telegram who was called before Federal Judge Luse and warned against publication of news that might have a tendency to prejudice jurors or venemen in the federal court, made the following statement today as to the controversy: "The question at issue is whether or not the courts have the power to compel newspapers to withhold news from the public in order that jurors or venemen may not possibly be prejudiced by the reading of such news."

"The accuracy of the news article which incurred the displeasure of the court has not been questioned. The objection raised is that it was of such nature as to prejudice the venemen to such an extent that it might not be possible to obtain an unprejudiced jury for the trial of Victor H. Arnold, who is charged with having used the mails to defraud. The court has dismissed the venire and ordered another drawn for service August 15, when the trial will commence. That any member of the venire was prejudiced by the news articles has not been proved."

MARRIED AT CHURCH IN ELGIN

Mention has already been made of the recent marriage in Elgin of Miss Adelaide Ross of this city and Mr. Glenn Harney of Elgin. The Elgin News gave the following notice of the wedding:

"Miss Adelaide Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, of Jacksonville, Ill., and Glenn Harney, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Harney, of 312 Wilcox avenue, this city, were married this morning at 8 o'clock low nuptial mass at St. Mary's Catholic church. Father T. L. Walsh officiated. The wedding march was played by Miss Nan Wright, organist of the church."

"The bride was veiled in white Canton crepe, and her veil of white tulle was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of white snapdragons. "Miss Alice Ross who served her sister as her only attendant, wore a gown of apricot Canton crepe with hat to match and carried sweet peas. Robert Cleary of this city, served as best man. "Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents to relatives and friends. Mr. Harney and his bride have left on a short trip and upon their return will reside temporarily with the groom's parents on Wilcox avenue. "The bride, who is well known in Elgin, where she has made her home for the past two years, formerly attended the parochial schools of Jacksonville, and later was a student of music at the Illinois Woman's college. "Mr. Harney received his education in the local schools and is at present employed by the Stewart-Warner company of this city."

FOX TERRIER PUP ATTENDS FUNERAL AT MARION, OHIO

Remains in Front of Tomb After Services are Over

(By the Associated Press)
ON BOARD SPECIAL TRAIN WITH MRS. HARDING, Mansfield, Ohio, Aug. 10.—When the iron gates had closed today on the vault where Warren Harding slept, a friendly fox terrier pup lay down before them undisturbed by the guardsmen who kept vigil around the tomb. The little dog had come uninvited to the great man's funeral perhaps called by the love for animals this kindly man had always shown.

In and out among the cabinet officers, generals and admirals standing reverently by the bier, he twisted his way, he wandered his way close to the casket as though he recognized the presence there of a friend. Finally in sleepy contentment he laid down just inside the open doors of the tomb to watch with drowsy eyes as the funeral rites were concluded.

And because Warren Harding loved those who loved Warren Harding best were glad to see him there. No hand was raised to drive him away. Even the sorrowful widow had noted him there. His presence sent a little gleam of happiness through her gloom for she knew the dead president would have welcomed this little wanderer.

The time came when the casket must be carried into the vault and the little dog blocked the way. There was a motion to push him to one side, but Mrs. Harding would not have it so. At her wishes, Secretary Christian called softly to guards to coax, not to drive him.

After all but the soldier guard had left the tomb, Captain Andrews, the dead president's aide, went back to see that all was well there before Mrs. Harding left for Washington. He went at Mrs. Harding's request and he brought back to her word that he found the terrier sitting at the door of the tomb still faithful to the dead friend sleeping there.

To Mrs. Harding it was a bright spot in a dark hour of her life. Speeding toward Washington tonight she thus described it to her friends on the train, telling how she had watched the little visitor stray among the feet of those gathered about the casket and had drawn comfort even in that moment from his coming.

SEEKS MORE POLICEWOMEN
London.—Having won her fight for the non-sale of alcohol to minors, Lady Astor is now urging the British government to appoint more women "policemen." Speaking recently in the House of Commons on the salaries of the metropolitan police force, she declared the present force of women was totally inadequate.

Viscountess Astor said more women police were needed in London for patrol duty, and she appealed to the Home Secretary to increase their number and widen their authority.

H. H. Harris of the north part of the county visited the city yesterday.

ST. LOUISANS HELD MEMORIAL SERVICES
(By the Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 10.—St. Louisans jammed the municipal opera theater this afternoon to pay a fitting tribute to the late President Warren G. Harding. Business was at a virtual standstill and many civic organizations held memorial services in honor of the dead president. Every seat in the natural amphitheater was taken save the box in which the late president and Mrs. Harding had sat during their visit here nearly two months ago. The box was draped in black.

At three o'clock the hour set for the beginning of the funeral rites at Marion, Ohio, the services were started here. Great tribute was paid to the dead president by several speakers among them the Right Rev. Archbishop J. J. Glennon, who depicted Mr. Harding, his personal friend as a real American who had sacrificed his life in the service of his country.

Edward May was a city visitor from his home on the State road Friday afternoon.

PREMIUMS PAID FOR MARKS IN BERLIN FRIDAY

Prussian Government Unable to Meet Police Pay Roll

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Premiums of 100 per cent were paid freely on the house today for paper marks which are now so scarce that a man with a check book does not hesitate to pay for them at the rate of two for one. The strike of the printers, which ended today had complicated gravely the moneyless situation by tying up the unaccounted batteries of the reichsbank's printing presses. The reichsbank and all the big and little private banks locked their gates at noon to escape the long lines of clamoring patrons.

While the currency shortage is not void of humorous phases, nevertheless it is contributing a serious aspect to the prevailing nervousness and irritability. It is inconvenient for workers and middle classes who are accustomed to ready cash.

The Prussian government today was unable to mobilize enough currency to meet its police payroll and the officers are now in much the same plight as tourists, who are unable to pay their hotel bills and railroad fares. The General Electric company was the first of the big industrial plants to organize a food distributing bureau for the benefit of its employees.

Mrs. H. C. Linker made a trip from Roodhouse to the city yesterday.

EXPRESSES REGRET AT THE RESIGNATION OF G. B. CHRISTIAN

President Coolidge Withholds Comment, However

(By the Associated Press)

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL TRAIN AT AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 10.—An expression of regret was forthcoming from the car of President Coolidge, speeding back tonight to Washington, when newspapermen sent in word that George B. Christian, Jr., had resigned as secretary to the president after the entombing of Warren Harding's body at Marion today.

Those close to Mr. Coolidge said that he had not yet received the resignation, and that therefore comment was withheld.

Official Washington has been speculating on the possible choice of a successor to Mr. Christian whose resignation was not unexpected. The names of Edward T. Clark, who served as Secretary to Mr. Coolidge, when the latter was vice-president and of Benjamin F. Felt, former Boston newspaperman have been most frequently mentioned but some observers have advanced the opinion that Mr. Coolidge might produce a dark horse. From the president himself has come nothing to indicate his intentions.

Another appointment awaiting action by the president is that of his personal physician as it is the general belief that Brigadier General Sawyer will follow the course of Mr. Christian and retire from public life with the death of Mr. Harding, who elevated him. In this connection has been mentioned the name of Major James F. Copal, an army doctor living in Washington, who attended Mr. Coolidge while the latter was vice-president and who accompanied the Coolidge's on the journey to Marion.

President Coolidge, after a 15 hour journey to Marion returned after remaining in the town just five and a half hours, about half of which he spent in his private car.

Herrin—Mrs. Ella Dorris, wife of the sheriff of Franklin county captured an escaped prisoner single handed recently. When the man escaped, he overpowered a deputy and disappeared. Mrs. Dorris started to hunt him with a shot gun. After she had fired several shots, the prisoner surrendered.

Services in the many churches and public services at the municipal pier, the Union League Club, in Grant Park and elsewhere, were marked by the utmost simplicity. The songs loved by him who was a nation's leader were sung; the story of his life and deeds were recited; prayers for him, for his widow and for America were said and the people departed soberly and sadly.

The quiet in the loop, Chicago's business and financial district, was more than the Sunday and holiday stillness. Today the few people in the great business center found great office buildings closed and draped in mourning, flags drooping at half mast, theaters, drug stores and other business places usually open 365 days a year with locked doors and black bordered notices in the windows.

The stock exchange and board of trade were closed, baseball games and all sport events were called off; street cars and elevated lines operated on curtailed schedules.

Everywhere there was the evidence of sadness.

Services in the churches were attended by large congregations but the public ceremonies drew even greater crowds. At Ravinia Park, where sacred music featured the exercises, former Senator J. Probably one of the most unique services was that held in the lobby of a downtown hotel where a dignified silence replaced the usual bustle and active speakers reviewed the life of Harding and the crowds joined in his songs.

At one police station all the prisoners were ordered to face the east at 2 o'clock and stand for two minutes.

EDITOR ISSUES STATEMENT ON CONTROVERSY

(By the Associated Press)

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 10.—Walter Hard, managing editor of The Evening Telegram was called before Federal Judge Luse and warned against publication of news that might have a tendency to prejudice jurors or veniremen in the federal court, made the following statement today as to the controversy:

"The question at issue is whether or not the courts have the power to compel newspapers to withhold news from the public in order that jurors or veniremen may not possibly be prejudiced by the reading of such news."

"The accuracy of the news article which incurred the displeasure of the court has not been questioned. The objection raised is that it was of such nature as to prejudice the veniremen to such an extent that it might be possible to obtain an unimpaired jury for the trial of Victor H. Arnold, who is charged with having used the mails to defraud. The court has dismissed the venire and ordered another drawn for service August 15, when the trial will commence. That any member of the venire was prejudiced by the news articles has not been proved."

MARRIED AT CHURCH

IN ELGIN

Mention has already been made of the recent marriage in Elgin of Miss Adelaide Ross of this city and Mr. Glenn Harney of Elgin. The Elgin News gave the following notice of the wedding:

"Miss Adelaide Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, of Jacksonville, Ill., and Glenn Harney, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Harney, of 312 Wilcox avenue, this city, were married this morning at 8 o'clock low nuptial mass at St. Mary's Catholic church. Father T. L. Walsh officiated. The wedding march was played by Miss Nan Wright, organist of the church."

"The bride was gowned in white Canton crepe, and her veil of white tulle was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of white snapdragons."

"Miss Alice Ross, who served her sister as her only attendant, wore a gown of apricot Canton crepe with hat to match and carried sweet peas. Robert Cleary of this city, served as best man."

"Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents to relatives and friends. Mr. Harney and his bride have left on a short trip and upon their return will reside temporarily with the groom's parents on Wilcox avenue."

"The bride, who is well known in Elgin, where she has made her home for the past two years, formerly attended the parochial schools of Jacksonville and later was a student of music at the Illinois Woman's college."

"Mr. Harney received his education in the local schools and is at present employed by the Stewart-Warner company of this city."

FOX TERRIER PUP ATTENDS FUNERAL AT MARION, OHIO

Remains in Front of Tomb After Services are Over

(By the Associated Press)

ON BOARD SPECIAL TRAIN WITH MRS. HARDING, Mansfield, Ohio, Aug. 10.—When the iron gates had closed today on the vault where Warren Harding slept, a friendly fox terrier pup lay down before them undisturbed by the guardsmen who kept vigil around the tomb. The little dog had come uninvited to the great man's funeral perhaps called by the love for animals this kindly man had always shown.

In and out among the cabinet officers, generals and admirals standing reverently by the bier, he twisted his way, he wandered his way close to the casket as though he recognized the presence there of a friend. Finally in sleepy contentment he laid down just inside the open doors of the tomb to watch with drooping eyes as the funeral rites were concluded.

And because Warren Harding loved dogs those who loved Warren Harding best were glad to see him there. No hand was raised to drive him away. Even the sorrowful widow had noted him there. His presence sent a little gleam of happiness through her gloom for she knew the dead president would have welcomed this little wanderer.

The time came when the casket must be carried into the vault and the little dog blocked the way. There was a motion to push him to one side, but Mrs. Harding would not have it so. At her wishes, Secretary Christian called softly to guards to coax, not to drive him.

After all but the soldier guard had left the tomb, Captain Andrews, the dead president's aide, went back to see that all was well there before Mrs. Harding left for Washington. He went at Mrs. Harding's request and he brought back to her word that he found the terrier sitting at the door of the tomb still faithful to the dead friend sleeping there.

To Mrs. Harding it was a bright spot in a dark hour of her life. Speeding toward Washington tonight she thus described it to her friends on the train, telling how she had watched the little visitor stray among the feet of those gathered about the casket and had drawn comfort even in that moment from his coming.

SEEKS MORE POLICEWOMEN

London.—Having won her fight for the non-sale of alcohol to minors, Lady Astor is now urging the British government to appoint more women "policemen." Speaking recently in the House of Commons on the salaries of the metropolitan police force, she declared the present force of women was totally inadequate.

Viscountess Astor said more women police were needed in London for patrol duty, and she appealed to the Home Secretary to increase their number and widen their authority.

ST. LOUISANS HELD MEMORIAL SERVICES

(By the Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 10.—St. Louisans jammed the municipal opera theater this afternoon to pay a fitting tribute to the late President Warren G. Harding.

Business was at a virtual standstill and many civic organizations held memorial services in honor of the dead president. Every seat in the natural amphitheater was taken save the box in which the late president and Mrs. Harding had sat during their visit here nearly two months ago. The box was draped in black.

At three o'clock the hour set for the beginning of the funeral rites at Marion, Ohio, the services were started here. Great tribute was paid to the dead president by several speakers among the most prominent being Archbishop J. J. Glennon, who depicted Mr. Harding, his personal friend as a real American who had sacrificed his life in the service of his country.

Edward Moy was a city visitor from his home on the State road Friday afternoon.

PREMIUMS PAID FOR MARKS IN BERLIN FRIDAY

Prussian Government Unable to Meet Police Pay Roll

(By the Associated Press)

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Premiums of 100 per cent were paid freely on the bourse today for paper marks which are now so scarce that a man with a check book does not hesitate to pay for them at the rate of two for one. The strike of the printers, which ended today had complicated gravely the moneyless situation by tying up the unaccounted balances of the reichsbank's printing presses. The reichsbank and all the big and little private banks locked their gates at noon to escape the long lines of clamoring patrons.

While the currency shortage is not void of humorous phases it nevertheless is contributing a serious aspect to the prevailing nervousness and irritability since it is inconveniencing workers and middle classes who are accustomed to ready cash.

The Prussian government today was unable to mobilize enough currency to meet its police payroll and the officers are now in much the same plight as tourists, who are unable to lay their hands on sufficient currency to pay their hotel bills and railroad fares. The General Electric company was the first of the big industrial plants to organize a food distributing bureau for the benefit of its employees.

Mrs. H. C. Linker made a trip from Roodhouse to the city yesterday.

Florida, August.—Every former service man in the Peoria district now has a job. J. J. Gilchrist, employment supervisor of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau has announced. All these positions obtained by the bureau were ones the men were fitted for by vocational training.

Mt. Carroll, August.—Mt. Carroll's cooperative creamery is prospering, according to G. R. Bliss, county adviser. The receipts of cream for one day totaled 7,000 pounds, and a ready market for all butter is report.

LABOR TO RAISE LEGION'S WORK

SPRINGFIELD.—Action by resolution praising the work of the American Legion for its support of the war effort. The resolution was adopted by the Springfield Legion, president of the Illinois Federation, at the Decatur convention September 10.

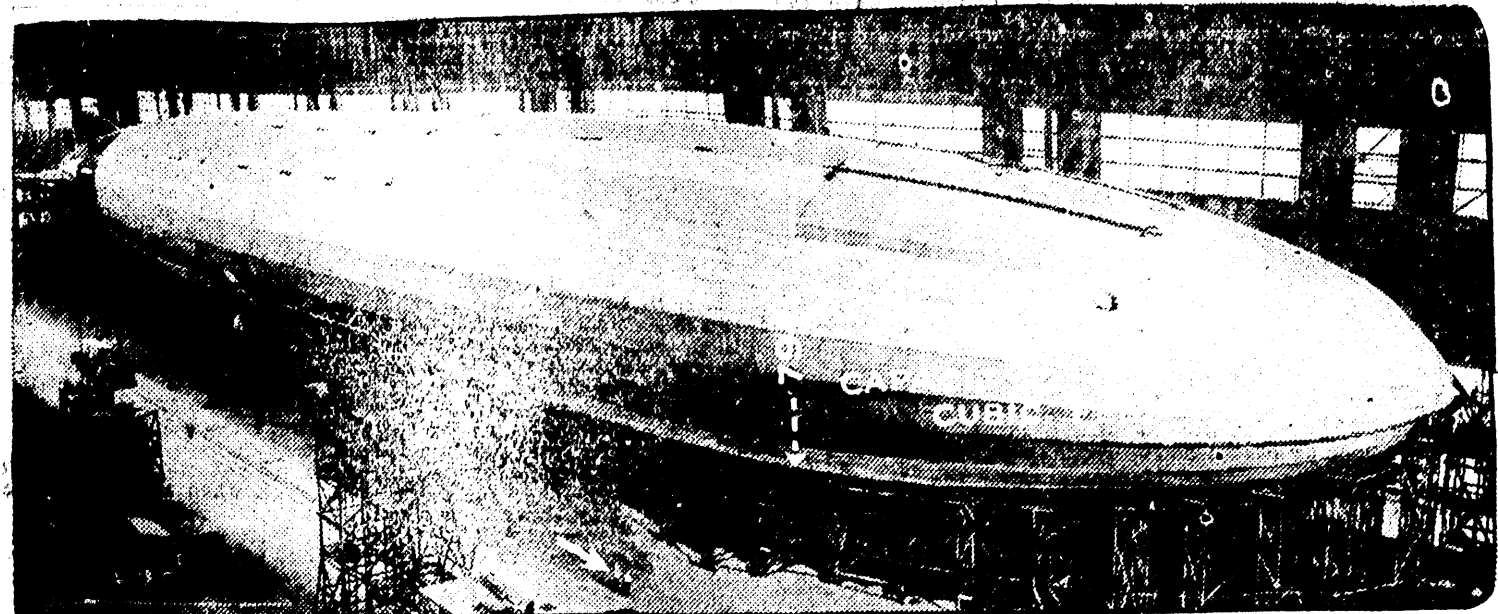

President Walker told the state legislature of the Decatur meeting that he would introduce a resolution, and the attitude of the Federation's executive board approving the establishment of trade unionist posts of the legion bears out the supposition that close co-operation between the two organizations is desired by officials of the federation.

Other matters on the Decatur program will not be arranged until the meeting is called to order. President Walker said. The sessions will begin September 10 and will continue until the business suggested by the various committees is completed.

The ZR-1 Will Soon Be Ready for First Flight

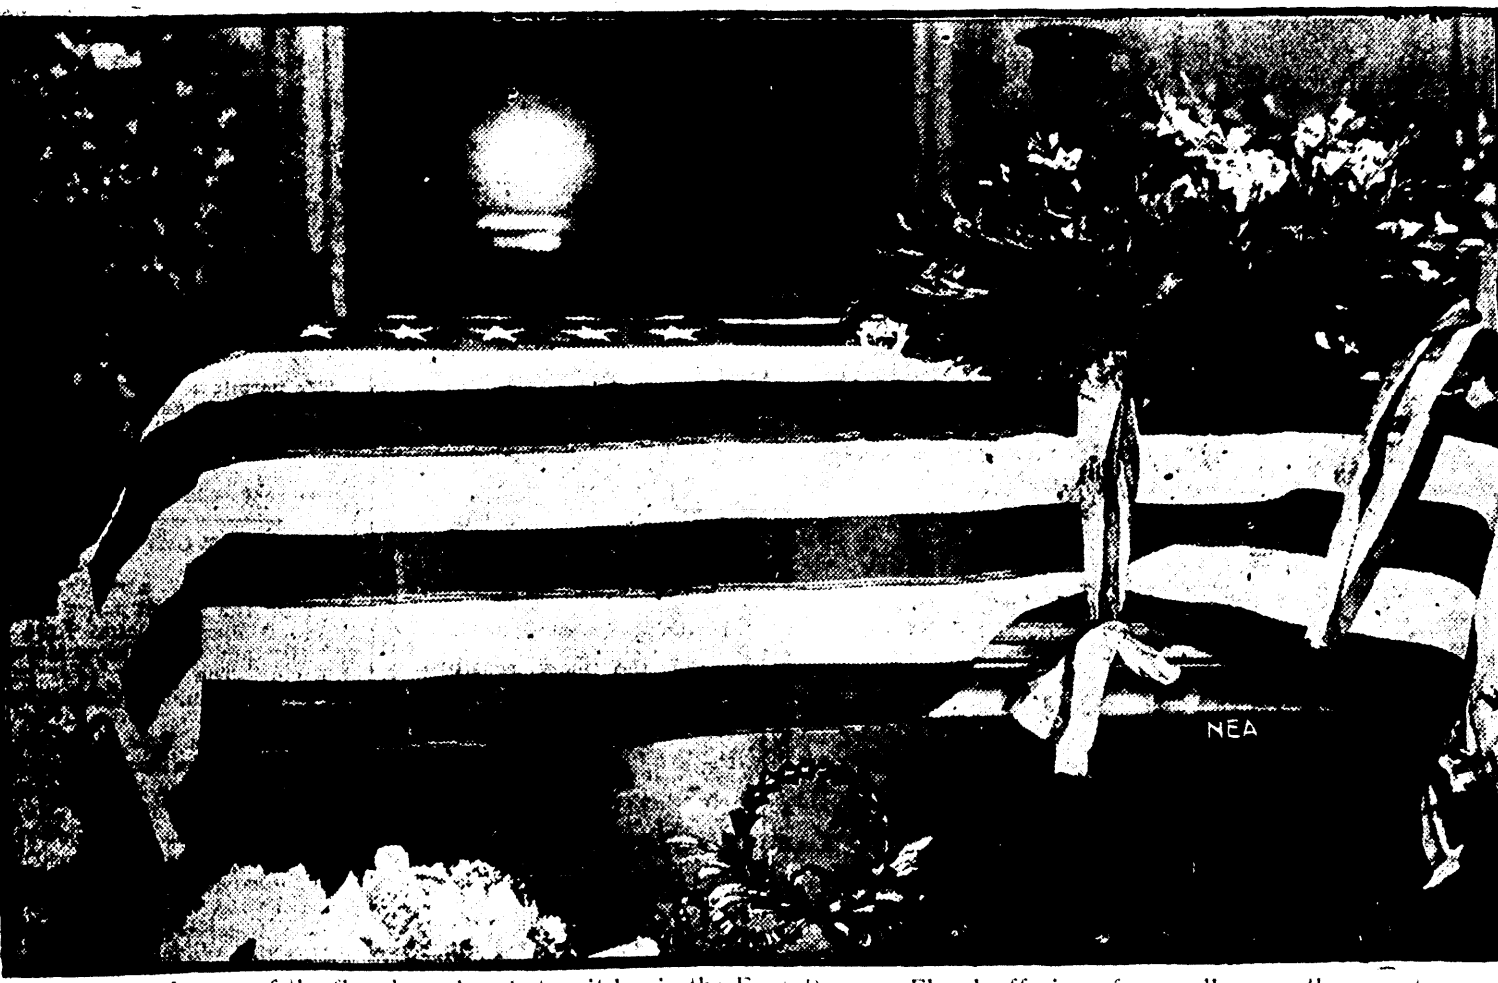

Latest photo of the ZR-1, nearing completion at the Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J. The outer covering is made of sheep stomachs. Sixty cells contain 2,100,000 cubic feet of hydrogen which will lift 136,000 pounds, or the same amount of helium lifting 120,000 pounds. Six 200 and 300 horse-power motors will drive it at 75 miles an hour and the ship will be able to fly 4010 miles and return. One of its first flights will be an attempt to reach the North Pole. JACK REICHLER ONLY ROOKIE
BUT PLAYING GREAT GAME

(By NEA Service)

BOSTON.—Speaking of 1923
recruits who have made the grade in the big leagues, don't fail to include Jack Reichler, stellar outfielder of the Boston Red Sox.

For Reichler, a graduate of the University of Illinois, has come thru with a vengeance. A heavy hitter and an exceptionally clever man in a pinch, the former college star has done yeoman service for the Chance entourage in its efforts to keep out of the celler position.

That he swings a mean stick is shown by the fact that he is managing the apple around the .375 mark, being right up along with the leaders. But it isn't only at the plate that Reichler stars, for he is known as well as a pretty nifty fielder as well as a good territory fast, is a sure shot on fly balls and packs a rifle-like arm.

Reichler comes from the same school that has turned out quite a cluster of major league celebrities, two of the most famous perhaps, being Garland (Jake) Stahl, old Washington and Boston American league player and manager, and Carl Lundgren, who pitched for the Cubs back in the days when "Peerless" Chance was grabbing pennants and world's championships with reckless abandon.

Unless all predictions prove very wrong, Reichler has a most promising future in the diamond pastime.

SPORTSMEN PAY THEIR HOMAGE

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Sportsmen thruout the nation today paid tribute to Jack Reichler and other favorites to pay homage to another sportsman who had laid down the duties of a nation.

Golf courses, where President
Harding gained most enjoyment in outdoor exercise were deserted thruout the nation. Not a club swing or a ball stirred as they laid to rest in Marion a golfer who always "played the game squarely."

Baseball parks usually thronged with millions of the national pastime's devotees were silent and deserted today in respect to the fan who always supported his home team loyally but couldn't forget his first love for the Cincinnati Reds. Even during the illness from which he never recovered, President Harding's frequent query was "how did the Reds come out?"

Horse races, boxing exhibitions, sports of all kinds, were cancelled as a measure of respect to one who always had stood for the best in sportsmanship.

FOUR SWIMMERS TO TRY ENGLISH CHANNEL

DOVER, England, Aug. 10.
(By A. P.)—Four men will attempt to swim across the English channel tomorrow, three of them from the English side and the other from France.

Two of the trio that will start from Dover are Americans and both are from Boston, the city in which Henry Sullivan who last week became the third man to swim the channel, is a shoe salesman. They are Charles Toth and Sam Richards. Toth made two unsuccessful attempts to swim the channel last year, the first time getting within four miles of his goal, and the second time within five miles. Richards surrendered in his attempt when four miles off the Dover coast last year when taken ill with a fit of coughing.

The third man to start from Dover tomorrow is Ramon Madril of the Argentine. It will be his first attempt. Enrique Tirabochi will start from Calais.

ENTIRE CITY HONORS DEPARTED PRESIDENT

Community Memorial Service at High School is Solemn and Impressive—Speakers Laud Harding as Journalist, Statesman and Christian

A crowd that almost filled the lower main floor of the high school auditorium assembled at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to pay the last respects to our departed president, Warren G. Harding. It was an impressive program followed in this community service, and the spirit of the audience was one of solemn reverence for the fallen leader of the nation.

After several selections by the Kearns orchestra, Rev. W. E. Spooner called the meeting to order, and the service opened with the singing of one of Harding's favorite hymns, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," the audience being led in the song by Homer Wood. Rev. A. P. Howells then read the words of Scripture touched by President Harding's lips when he took the oath of office, and also his favorite passage of scripture in the 22nd chapter of Revelations. Rev. Mr. Howells then led the audience in repeating the Twenty-Third Psalm, and led in prayer.

The Elks quartet then sang "Lead Kindly Light," which was followed by remarks on "Harding as a Newspaper Publisher," by J. W. Walton. Miss Beulah Tull then sang with fine effect, "Crossing the Bar."

H. H. Bancroft Delivers Address

An address was delivered by H. H. Bancroft and dealt with Mr. Harding as a statesman. Mr. Bancroft spoke in his usual impressive manner and gave high praise to the departed president in his handling of the affairs of the nation. He spoke of Harding's keynote speech as temporary chairman of the Republican national convention in 1916, in which the United States senator from Ohio spoke the words which helped to reorganize the party after the division of 1912. From that time Mr. Harding was mentioned as presidential timber. Edmund Burke has defined a statesman as one who has the desire to preserve and the ability to improve. By his action in admitting Vice President Coolidge to the councils of the cabinet, by calling the disarmament conference and bringing about the Four Power Pact, which insures peace in the Pacific and which is the greatest stroke of diplomacy in American history, and by his determined action in his capacity of executive on one occasion; Harding demonstrated beyond a doubt that he had the ability to improve.

Following Mr. Bancroft's address the Elks quartet sang "Nearer My God to Thee." The chairman then introduced Dr. F. M. Rule, who has had the unique distinction of having part in memorial services for all three of the martyred presidents. Dr. Rule spoke on Harding as a Christian, and in opening his address he related his experience as a participant in the memorial services for other departed national leaders.

Dr. Rule was working as a janitor at a church in the city where he was attending school at the time of Lincoln's death. It was his duty to toll the bell for the slain president. He also had a part in the services in honor of President Garfield, and delivered an address at a memorial for President McKinley.

Harding as a Christian

Mr. Harding was a Christian in every sense of the word. He believed Christianity to embody the highest ethical life known to man. He followed it as a constructive and comprehensive policy. He was a faithful member of the Baptist church, yet was broad enough to see that all Christian groups are part of the kingdom of God, and never objected to the fact that his wife chose to worship with a different denomination.

Out where the Golden Gate opens into the ocean that links the old with the new, where the ever changing and ever changeless waters of the mighty Pacific symbolize eternity the soul of the nation's leader took its flight to another Golden Gate that opens into the Great Beyond. In his death, the nation lost a Christian leader.

The service closed with the singing of "America," by the audience. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Howells, and the audience remained in reverent silence while the cornetist in the orchestra sounded taps.

PARK BOARD HELD A CALLED MEETING

Tourists to Be Permitted to Occupy Southeast Corner of Park During Chautauqua

The park board held a called meeting last night at the chamber of commerce rooms, with members of the tourist committee present. All members of the park board were present, with President Nichols in the chair. The object of the meeting was to receive the request of the chamber of commerce to permit tourists to occupy the southeast corner of the park during chautauqua.

Heretofore tourists have been permitted to camp about where the swimming pool is now located and along the edge of the lake. This arrangement will be impracticable this year, both because of the swimming pool and the great number of automobiles which park along the lake side. The board decided to permit tourists during chautauqua to camp in the extreme southeast corner of the park.

Mr. Tomlinson also announced that a number of signs have been prepared for the benefit of tourists, one of them to be placed at the entrance to the park guiding tourists to the parking place. It is the desire of the board and enterprising citizens of Jacksonville to make tourists welcome in the park. This is considered one of the best advertisements the city can have and the number of tourists each day is so small that their presence will be no inconvenience.

TROOP SEVEN HELD REGULAR MEETING

Hear Talk by H. F. Henley of Chicago—Will Take Hike Saturday Night

Troop Seven Boy Scouts of America, held their regular meeting Friday evening in the Scott room of Grace M. E. church. Nearly every member of the troop was present and heard a very interesting talk made by H. F. Henley of Chicago. During the talk Mr. Henley made clear the idea back of the new cabin to be built soon just east of Arnold, near the Wabash subway for the Boy Scouts and other young people's organizations of this city who wish to go on over-night camping trips.

At the meeting last night the boys expressed high appreciation of the interest shown by the local Kiwanis Club in the different young people's organizations of this city.

Plans were made for a hike and over-night camp for Saturday evening. The boys will meet at Hopper's shoe store at 9 o'clock Saturday evening and will be accompanied on the hike by J. L. Read, Scoutmaster, and Russell Arundel. They will carry only the things absolutely needed, rolled in blankets, army style.

Among those who will be included in the party are: Jan Martin, Robert Smeltzer, Malcolm Allan, Clare Huff, Dale Coley, Thomas Hopper, Jr., Kenneth Thomson, Herbert Hickox, Keith Whewell, Abram Wihl, Francis Gilbert, Edward Baxter, Thomas Brennen, Charles Cornick, Robert Hansmeier, and George Roach.

VALUABLE HORSE BADLY INJURED

Tommy D., owned by Frank Devine which has been showing such wonderful form in its training at the fair grounds track recently suffered a severe injury which will prevent it from starting in any races this year.

While travelling at a fast rate of speed, the horse's horse broke, throwing it and causing an open joint in the right knee. The horse is improving slowly under the best of care and it is hoped that the animal will again be ready to resume his training next year, as he is a colt which shows great promise of developing into a really great pacer.

PIG CLUB MEETING HELD AT SINCLAIR

G. B. Kendall, county Farm Ad. held an enthusiastic Pig Club meeting at Sinclair Friday evening. A good crowd was present and after an interesting meeting the crowd was entertained by moving pictures, the side of the Hopper blacksmith shop being converted into a screen by the use of a large curtain. "Patriotic Pigs" was shown on the screen and also the popular 2-reel comedy, "Farming in One Lesson."

TO RACE AT WINCHESTER

Several horsemen who are training their strings at the fair grounds track made a trip to Winchester yesterday to make entry for the races at the coming fair meet in that place. George "Speck" Woods expects to enter about six horses in the different events there.

Miss Mabel Cuddy left Friday evening for Hazelton, Iowa, where she will visit for two weeks with her sister, Miss Grace Cuddy.

THE JOHNSTON AGENCY

MAN INJURED AS AUTO HITS WAGON

R. H. Vail is Hurt on Hard Road When Speeding Car Crashes Into Vehicle—Horse is Pinned Under Wagon But Escapes Unhurt

R. H. Vail, a resident of the Pisgah neighborhood, was painfully injured last night when the wagon in which he was riding was struck by a speeding auto on the hard road a half mile this side of Arnold. The wagon was completely demolished and the bed was thrown over on top of the horse. Mr. Vail was thrown from the vehicle, receiving a severe cut on the head and another on one knee. He was badly bruised and shaken by the collision.

Mr. Vail was brought to this city by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith who were travelling that way in their car and witnessed the accident. He was taken to the home of his brother, James Vail, on North Diamond street.

The auto which struck Mr. Vail's wagon did not stop. Both vehicles were going east. It is understood that two men in another car started in pursuit of the offending auto, but nothing further has been heard of the result of the chase. Local police were notified and made a run to the scene of the accident. The wagon was broken in two by the force of the impact. The horse, which was pinned under the bed of the wagon, was apparently uninjured.

CAPPS EMPLOYEES IN HARDING MEMORIAL

William Bieber and William Clarkson Conduct Services in Coat Shop at Plant—Three Hundred Factory Workers Attend

Memorial services in honor of President Harding were held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the mills of J. Capps & Sons. Three hundred employees of the company assembled in the coat shop and held short services. They were in charge of William Bieber, assisted by William Clarkson. Every machine in the big plant was shut down and all hands assembled for the services.

Mr. Bieber opened the service with the reading of the 23rd Psalm, after the singing of "America" by the audience. He then made a short address, emphasizing the outstanding characteristics of the departed leader. Following this, Mr. Clarkson led in prayer. The service was impressive and expressed the spirit of the mass of the people in its own peculiar and unique manner.

NEW STATION TO BE OPEN BY FALL, 1924

The main passenger group of the new Chicago Union station, including buildings covering the area from the river west to Clinton street and from Jackson to Adams street, must be completed within 18 months, according to a contract which recently was awarded to John Griffiths & Son Co.

At the present time the main building, which is to house the offices of railway companies and ultimately to give office space for other interests, will be erected only four stories above the main structure.

The train shed will be east of Canal street with a concourse under Canal leading to and from the main building. The cost of the main passenger group is estimated at $10,000,000. It is expected that the station will be open by autumn of 1924.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR WABASH

Vast Amount of Business to Kansas City Will Be Routed This Way—Double Track Certain in Coming Years

The eventual change of terminals on the Springfield division of the Wabash is going to cause between 25 and 30 families to move from Springfield to Decatur according to a report printed in the Decatur Review from Superintendent L. W. Karnes of the Springfield division. This change may not come for some months yet but is certain to come within the next year or when the company builds a new big terminal between Decatur and Moberly.

This is expected to be at Baylis and will replace the Springfield terminals. Crews running out of Decatur and Moberly will turn at that point.

To Be Main Line

Now that the Wabash has that 75 mile strip between Hannibal and Moberly, it has control of its entire route from Kansas City to Chicago and practically on to Buffalo. The management is planning some great things for that line west of Decatur. It is destined to become the "main line" again, not only in name but in reality.

The great amount of business to and from the west thru the Kansas City gateway, will be routed this way, both passenger and freight. It will save a day or two in time on freight as it will save that great delay in going thru the big congested terminals at St. Louis and also the route is about 50 miles shorter.

Through Trains

Mr. Karnes expects to see a new, thru limited between New York and Kansas City, by way of Hannibal, started soon. While it may be a matter of 25 years yet, Mr. Karnes expects to eventually see the road all double-tracked from Decatur to Moberly.

In preparation for making it a high class route, the company is planning to spend much money there. It is understood much of the new motive power now being built for the road and to be delivered this year, will go to the Springfield and Moberly divisions. The company has also purchased a new $50,000 turntable for Springfield and another costing $40,000 to be installed at Hannibal.

WELL KNOWN COUPLE MARRIED IN HANNIBAL

William H. Winchester and Miss Allie H. Leake Were United in Marriage There in July—Will Reside Here.

Their many friends in Jacksonville will be surprised to learn of the marriage of Miss Allie H. Leake of 840 West Lafayette avenue to William H. Winchester of East College Street, the marriage occurring in Hannibal Missouri in the early part of July, with the Reverend W. O. Gardner of the M. E. church officiating.

As the groom is a member of the Dokay drill team, and as he intended taking the trip to Portland with the team, he decided that for the peace of his own mind it was better to withhold the announcement until his return from the coast. He was unable to make the trip however, on account of the bride being ill in the hospital, so as the Dokays are not here now to make it unpleasant for him, "Pill" finally decided to announce his marriage.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William J. Winchester of East College street, and has resided in Jacksonville for the past ten years. He is a graduate of the Jacksonville high school with the class of 1919. He is at present employed as salesman with J. W. Lane and Son on the west side of the square.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Leake of 840 West Lafayette avenue and is very highly esteemed by a host of friends and acquaintances. She has spent practically her whole life in Jacksonville, and was graduated from the Jacksonville high school in 1921. The young couple will make their home, for a time with the bride's parents on West Lafayette avenue.

Their many friends will join in wishing them a very happy wedded life, and in a sincere hope for the early recovery of the bride.

ENTIRE CITY HONORS DEPARTED PRESIDENT

Community Memorial Service at High School is Solemn and Impressive—Speakers Laud Harding as Journalist, Statesman and Christian

A crowd that almost filled the lower main floor of the high school auditorium assembled at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to pay the last respects to our departed president, Warren G. Harding. It was an impressive program followed in this community service, and the spirit of the audience was one of solemn reverence for the fallen leader of the nation.

After several selections by the Kearns orchestra, Rev. W. E. Spoons called the meeting to order, and the service opened with the singing of one of Harding's favorite hymns, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," the audience being led in the song by Homer Wood. Rev. A. P. Howells then read the words of Scripture touched by President Harding's lips when he took the oath of office, and also his favorite passage of scripture in the 22nd chapter of Revelations. Rev. Mr. Howells then led the audience in repeating the Twenty-Third Psalm, and led in prayer.

The Elks quartet then sang "Lead Kindly Light," which was followed by remarks on "Harding as a Newspaper Publisher," by J. W. Walton. Miss Donah Tull then sang with fine effect, "Crossing the Bar."

H. H. Bancroft Delivers Address
An address was delivered by H. H. Bancroft and dealt with Mr. Harding as a statesman. Mr. Bancroft spoke in his usual impressive manner and gave high praise to the departed president in his handling of the affairs of the nation. He spoke of Harding's keynote speech as temporary chairman of the Republican national convention in 1916, in which the United States senator from Ohio spoke the words which helped to reorganize the party after the division of 1912. From that time Mr. Harding was mentioned as presidential timber. Edmund Burke has defined a statesman as one who has the desire to preserve and the ability to improve. By his action in admitting Vice President Coolidge to the councils of the cabinet, by calling the disarmament conference and bringing about the Four Power Pact, which insures peace in the Pacific and which is the greatest stroke of diplomacy in American history, and by his determined action in his capacity of executive on one occasion, Harding demonstrated beyond a doubt that he had the ability to improve.

Following Mr. Bancroft's address the Elks quartet sang "Nearer My God to Thee." The chairman then introduced Dr. F. M. Rule, who has had the unique distinction of having part in memorial services for all three of the martyred presidents. Dr. Rule spoke on "Harding as a Christian," and in opening his address he related his experience as a participant in the memorial services for other departed national leaders.

Dr. Rule was working as a janitor at a church in the city where he was attending school at the time of Lincoln's death. It was his duty to toll the bell for the slain president. He also had a part in the services in honor of President Garfield, and delivered an address at a memorial for President McKinley.

Harding as a Christian
Mr. Harding was a Christian in every sense of the word. He believed Christianity to embody the highest ethical life known to man. He followed it as a constructive and comprehensive policy. He was a faithful member of the Baptist church, yet was broad enough to see that all Christian groups are part of the kingdom of God, and never objected to the fact that his wife chose to worship with a different denomination.

On the Golden Gate opens into the ocean that links the old with the new, where the ever changing and ever changeless waters of the mighty Pacific symbolize eternity, the soul of the nation's leader took its flight to another Golden Gate that opens into the Great Beyond. In his death, the nation lost a Christian leader.

The service closed, with the singing of "America," by the audience. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Howells, and the audience retired in reverent silence while the cornetist in the orchestra sounded taps.

PARK BOARD HELD A CALLED MEETING

Tourists to Be Permitted to Occupy Southeast Corner of Park During Chautauqua

The park board held a called meeting last night at the chamber of commerce rooms, with members of the tourist committee present. All members of the park board were present, with President Nichols in the chair. The object of the meeting was to receive the request of the chamber of commerce to permit tourists to occupy the southeast corner of the park during chautauqua.

Heretofore tourists have been permitted to camp about where the swimming pool is now located and along the edge of the lake. This arrangement will be impracticable this year, both because of the swimming pool and the great number of automobiles which park along the lake side. The board decided to permit tourists during chautauqua to camp in the extreme southeast corner of the park.

Mr. Thompson also announced that a number of signs have been prepared for the benefit of tourists, one of them to be placed at the entrance to the park guiding tourists to the parking place. It is the desire of the board and enterprising citizens of Jacksonville to make tourists welcome in the park. This is considered one of the best advertisements the city can have and the number of tourists each day is so small that their presence will be no inconvenience.

TROOP SEVEN HELD REGULAR MEETING
Hear Talk by H. F. Henley of Chicago—Will Take Hike Saturday Night.

Troop Seven Boy Scouts of America, held their regular meeting Friday evening in the Scott room of Grace M. E. church. Nearly every member of the troop was present and heard a very interesting talk made by H. F. Henley of Chicago. During the talk Mr. Henley made clear the idea back of the new cabin to be built soon just east of Arnold, near the Wabash subway for the Boy Scouts and other young people's organizations of this city who wish to go on over-night camping trips.

At the meeting last night the boys expressed high appreciation of the interest shown by the local Kiwanis Club in the different young people's organizations of this city.

Plans were made for a hike and over-night camp for Saturday evening. The boys will meet at Hoppe's shoe store at 9 o'clock Saturday evening and will be accompanied on the hike by J. L. Reed, Scoutmaster, and Russell Arundel. They will carry only the things absolutely needed, rolled in blankets, army style.

Among those who will be included in the party are: John Martin, Robert Smeltzer, Melcolm Allan, Clare Huff, Dale Copley, Thomas Hopper, Jr., Kenneth Thomson, Herbert Hickox, Keith Whewill, Abram Welch, Francis Gilbert, Edward Baxter, Thomas Brennan, Charles Cornick, Robert Hansmeyer, and George Roach.

VALUABLE HORSE BADLY INJURED
Tommy D., owned by Frank Devine, who has been showing such wonderful form in its training at the fair grounds track recently suffered a severe injury which will prevent it from starting in any races this year.

While travelling at a fast rate of speed, the horse's hooves broke, throwing it and causing an open joint in the right knee. The horse is improving slowly under the best of care, and it is hoped that the animal will again be ready to resume his training next year, as he is a colt which shows great promise of developing into a really great pacer.

PIG CLUB MEETING HELD AT SINCLAIR
G. B. Kendall, county Farm Adviser held an enthusiastic Pig Club meeting at Sinclair Friday evening. A good crowd was present and after an interesting meeting the crowd was entertained by moving pictures, the side of the Hopper blacksmith shop being converted into a screen by the use of a large curtain.

"Patriotic Pigs" was shown on the screen and also the popular 2-reel comedy, "Farming in One Lesson."

TO RACE AT WINCHESTER
Several horsemen who are training their strings at the fair grounds track made a trip to Winchester yesterday to make entry for the races at the coming fair meet in that place. George "Speck" Woods expects to enter about six horses in the different events there.

Miss Mabel Cuddy left Friday evening for Hazelton, Iowa, where she will visit for two weeks with her sister, Miss Grace Cuddy.

MAN INJURED AS AUTO HITS WAGON

R. H. Vail Is Hurt on Hard Road When Speeding Car Crashes Into Vehicle — Horse Is Pinned Under Wagon Bed But Escapes Injures

R. H. Vail, a resident of the Pisgah neighborhood, was painfully injured last night when the wagon in which he was riding was struck by a speeding auto on the hard road a half mile this side of Arnold. The wagon was completely demolished and the bed was thrown over on top of the horse. Mr. Vail was thrown from the vehicle, receiving a severe cut on the head and another on one knee. He was badly bruised and shaken by the collision.

Mr. Vail was brought to this city by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith who were travelling that way in their car and witnessed the accident. He was taken to the home of his brother, James Vail, on North Diamond street.

The auto which struck Mr. Vail's wagon did not stop. Both vehicles were going east. It is understood that two men in another car started in pursuit of the offending auto, but nothing further has been heard of the result of the chase. Local police were notified and made a run to the scene of the accident. The wagon was broken in two by the force of the impact. The horse, which was pinned under the bed of the wagon, was apparently uninjured.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR WABASH

Vast Amount of Business to Kansas City Will Be Routed This Way—Double Track Certain in Coming Years

The eventual change of terminals on the Springfield division of the Wabash is going to cause between 25 and 30 families to move from Springfield to Decatur according to a report printed in the Decatur Review from Superintendent L. W. Karnes of the Springfield division. This change may not come for some months but is certain to come within the next year or when the company builds a new big terminal between Decatur and Moberly.

This is expected to be at Baylis and will replace the Springfield terminals. Crews running out of Decatur and Moberly will turn at that point.

To Be Main Line
Now that the Wabash has that 75 mile strip between Hannibal and Moberly it has control of its entire route from Kansas City to Chicago and practically on to Buffalo. The management is planning some great things for that line west of Decatur. It is destined to become the "main line" again, not only in name but in reality.

The great amount of business to and from the west thru the Kansas City gateway, will be routed this way, both passenger and freight. It will save a day or two in time on freight as it will save that great delay in going thru the big congested terminals at St. Louis and also the route is about 50 miles shorter.

Through Trains
Mr. Karnes expects to see a new, thru limited between New York and Kansas City, by way of Hannibal, started soon. While it may be a matter of 25 years yet, Mr. Karnes expects to eventually see the road all double-tracked from Decatur to Moberly.

In preparation for making it a high class route, the company is planning to spend much money there. It is understood much of the new motive power now being built for the road and to be delivered this year, will go to the Springfield and Moberly divisions. The company has also purchased a new $50,000 turntable for Springfield and another costing $40,000 to be installed at Hannibal.
